Submission has gone down in the lower branch of the legislature, as the following telegram, which was received here this afternoon shows: Teofilo Crixell, Brownsville, Texas, Austin, Texas, Feb. 5.—Submission lost in house. Failed to get two-thirds vote. Lon C. Hill.

Tourists Arrive.—Another tourist sleeper, through from St. Louis, arrived in the city last night attached to the regular passenger train, containing 18 passengers. Several more cars are expected to arrive either tonight or tomorrow night.

One thousand trees for one thousand dollars is the order that the well known real estate dealer, Col. W. O. Coleman, placed yesterday with a Florida nursery, these trees to be planted on the Colonel's San Benito farm. These are all three-year-old stock and comprise the following varieties: Mediterranean, Sweet, Parson Brown, Pineapple, Jaffa, and others. Col. Coleman also purchased several varieties of lemons and pomelos which will also be planted on his San Benito place.

Moved.—The real estate office of Frank Rabb has been moved from the Puente building into the office in the King building occupied by Silver & Seobey. T. J. Wiley of Corpus Christi has recently arrived in the city and is now connected with Mr. Rabb, as well as C. B. McCullom, who has in the past been connected with him. Mr. Rabb has just placed his tract of land at Santa Maria on the market, as well as some land in Mexico. The advertisement of these lands will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Herald.

Band Concert Tonight.—Today being the 52nd anniversary of the adoption by Mexico of its present constitution, known as the "Constitution of 1857," it is observed as a national holiday throughout the republic. The national colors are hoisted on public buildings in Matamoros, as well as on the Mexican consulate in Brownsville. In celebration of the day, the military band in Matamoros will give a concert in the Plaza de Hidalgo tonight. This concert, by the way, will take the place of the regular Sunday night concert by the band.

A True Fish Story.—One day last week, while fishing in the resaca near the farm of E. K. Goodrich, L. M. Ellis, becoming weary of sitting on the bank with nothing to do but fight 'skeeters, decided that he would take a short nap. For fear that some fish might by accident run afoul of his hook while he slept, he wound his fish line several times around his leg and, lying down in the shade of an ebony tree near the bank of the resaca, dropped off into slumbers sweet. He had probably been sleeping for about half an hour when his heavenly dreams of selling large tracts of lands were disturbed by a mighty tug at the line around his leg, and before he could realize what was up, he found himself dragged into the river. Bob McClintock and Sam Bell, who were fishing with Mr. Ellis, seeing his predicament, at once rushed to the rescue. By the time they reached him, however, Mr. Ellis was about all in the water, but by prompt and vigorous efforts, the two managed, by cutting the line to free him, and save him from a watery grave. As to just what species of fish it was that so nearly caught the fisherman is a matter of controversy, some being of the opinion that it was a large gar, while Mr. Ellis stoutly maintains that it was either a shark or else that his line must have become entangled with the propeller of a submarine boat. Messrs. Bell and McClintock, while they have made no application for such, are justly entitled to a Carnegie hero medal.

Sympathy.

The community of Olmito extend heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Burress in their bereavement. Little Etta Bird was with us last year. We loved the sweet little babe so dearly. Grieve not dear parents, she has only gone before, to beckon us on. A Friend.
